

Susanne Reimoser, Dr. vet. med.

University of Veterinary Medicine, Research Institute of Wildlife Ecology, Vienna, Austria (1990 – 2018)

E-Mail: susanne.reimoser@vetmeduni.ac.at

Homepage: wildlife.reimoser.info

Susanne Reimoser (geb. Wagner), born January 22nd 1964 in New York, N.Y., USA, married, 2 children.

Education and Professional Experience

- 1983 – 1990: student at the University of Veterinary Medicine Vienna
- 1990 – 1992: doctoral studies, University of Veterinary Medicine Vienna, Research Institute of Wildlife Ecology (graduate thesis: Influence of anthropogenic disturbances on activity, behavior and heart rate of roe deer and red deer, in context of their daily and yearly patterns)
- 2002: professional diploma for GIS at the Department of GeoInformatics, University Salzburg; additional courses: „remote sensing“ and „GIS in landscape ecology and landscape planning“
- since 1990 research at the University of Veterinary Medicine Vienna, Research Institute of Wildlife Ecology
- 95 publications in books and journals (see publications)
- about 25 projects; see projects (selection)

Current focus of work

- wildlife ecology – veterinarian medicine
- geographic information system – modelling habitats
- interactions ungulates and forest vegetation.
- national park research; monitoring and wildlife management in national parks.
- Long-term interrelations of habitat changes and hunting bags for different wildlife species

Further Training

- work experience in the Hohe Tauern National Park (1995)
- hiking guide
- horse trekking guide in Austria and Germany
- hunting licence
- nature education (institute for applied environmental education)

Personal Interests

- horseback riding
- celtic harp
- hiking

October 2020